

I'll Stand Ground With You (Rita's Song)

When your kids ignore you for the latest rage
And your job feels like a soul cage
And friends don't return your calls
And your sister can't visit after all
When your support group disappears

I'll stand ground with you, my dear
I'll stand ground with you

If a tragedy should strike one day
And sheer sorrow takes your breath away
And your world crashes and begins to burn
And it's unclear where to turn
No matter what, you can be sure of

I'll stand ground with you, my love
I'll stand ground with you

When the earth is shattered by a mighty blow
And neither man nor beast know where to go
And life is threatened by eternal night
And there's not one place left to hide
As the final sun fades away

I'll stand ground with you that day
I'll stand ground with you
